CHAPTER 269

AN ACT

For the relief of Albert Goldman, postmaster at New York, New York.

May 13, 1952
[S. 1686]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Albert Goldman, postmaster at New York, New York, is relieved of all liability to refund to the United States the whole or any part of the sum of $23,748.66. Such sum represents a shortage in his money-order account due to the loss of official funds in the sinking of the United States steamship Hugh L. Scott on November 12, 1942. The Comptroller General of the United States is authorized and directed to credit the money-order account of the said Albert Goldman in the sum of $23,748.66, and the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to pay, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $23,748.66 to the credit of the Postmaster General's money-order disbursing account (symbol No. 48-050).

Approved May 13, 1952.
